

10 September 2020

Dear Families,

I am writing to share the news with you that I will be leaving my role as Executive Principal in December. It has been my pleasure to be a senior leader in our Trust for the past 5 years initially as Principal at The Hayesbrook School and latterly as Executive Principal for both Hayesbrook and The High Weald Academy. I work with an exceptional group of colleagues and am extremely proud of the work they do to ensure our fantastic students have the very best educational experience that they deserve.

I have enjoyed my time here immensely and am very grateful for the support you have always given. I will be moving on to take up the post of Executive Headteacher in South London – an area I have aspired to work in for some time and one that comes with a new set of challenges and experiences.

Trustees and Brook Learning Trust Leaders will commence the recruitment process for a new Executive leader very shortly and so they will be in touch to make sure you are kept up to date with that.

In the meantime December is a while away and we have much work to do between now and then to ensure our academies continue to grow and our students continue to learn and develop – of course you can be assured of my unstinting commitment to that over the coming months.

Yours sincerely,

Daniel Hatley
Executive Principal
